

USCS Turlock California Expands

July 1, 2011 – Voorhees, NJ - United States Cold Storage, Inc. (USCS) has announced board approval for a new construction project in Northern California.

Located approximately 70 miles east of San Francisco, the USCS Turlock, CA facility is slated for expansion due to strong customer demand for refrigerated space and services. The facility sits on 42 acres and serves the storage and distribution needs of a diverse agricultural community located in the fertile Northern and Central Valleys of California. The phase two construction at Turlock will increase the size to 9.5 million cubic feet of refrigerated storage space, with approximately 39,500 pallet positions.

USCS is very supportive of agricultural and frozen food industry growth in California and operates a total of nine warehouse and distribution facilities in the state. USCS provides fully integrated warehouse and logistics programs that result in transportation cost savings and highly efficient warehouse services.
