United States Cold Storage adds McDonough, Georgia to their portfolio of facilities

Voorhees, NJ – United States Cold Storage, Inc. (USCS) announces the addition of 8.6 million cubic feet of warehouse and distribution space in McDonough, Georgia. The facility, located at 1420 Greenwood Road, brings the USCS total to 261 million cubic feet of warehouse space in 38 facilities across 13 states.

Regional Vice President – Midwest, Dave Butterfield reports, “This is a great opportunity for United States Cold Storage to expand our presence and offer increased Multi-Vendor Consolidation (MVC) opportunities in the Southeast market. The enthusiasm and support is overwhelming from both new and existing customers as this is our first distribution center in the Atlanta market. We are very optimistic that this will be the beginning of a much larger need to add additional services in the near future.”

The facility, which is part the Atlanta metropolitan area, has over 26,000 pallet positions, 33 truck doors, 4 rail door with service by Norfolk Southern and a secure 30 spot drop lot. The McDonough site offers value added services including repack, specialized case picking and order assembly.

Mike Irvin, General Manager adds, “We are excited to have the opportunity to service our customers in the Atlanta market and we look forward to fostering new relationships within our community.”
