Date:UNITED STATES COLD STORAGE OPENS SECOND ATLANTA-AREA SITE

CAMDEN, NJ –United States Cold Storage (USCS) has opened its second Atlanta, GA, area location, a newly constructed 6.7-million-cubic-foot public refrigerated warehouse in McDonough, GA, located just south and east from Atlanta and right off the Interstate 75 corridor.

USCS already operates an 8.6-million-cubic-foot facility in McDonough, which it began leasing in 2016. This current operation, known as “McDonough 1,” serves the greater Atlanta metro market and provides regional multi-temp distribution services to the Southeast.

Located just one mile away, the new “McDonough 2” site offers 26,154 pallet positions, handles a wide range of refrigerated and frozen products (from -20F to +40F) and provides distribution services from as many as 25 refrigerated, enclosed dock doors and five railcar doors (served by Norfolk Southern).

“McDonough, GA, is an ideal location to service the southeast market as this area continues to grow,” notes David Butterfield, USCS Vice President-Midwest Region. “The Southeast continues to attract more people and Georgia and Florida now are among the nation’s top six fastest growing states. Our food manufacturer customers—located across the United States—have been excited and asking USCS to give them another location to service their needs in these markets.

“The Henry County (Economic Development Corporation) has been great to USCS and we hope to continue to grow with them,” Butterfield continues. “It’s an extremely exciting time. In less than three years, we’ve doubled our presence in a new market and can see opportunities to continue growth. I’m also proud of what McDonough General Manager Mike Irvin and his team have achieved as they focus on the keys of ‘Best in Cold’ service.”

McDonough General Manager Mike Irvin adds, “Our McDonough team is excited to have the opportunity to operate a second facility in the Atlanta market. In two and half years, we went from one facility to two. Meanwhile, we’ve experienced dynamic growth—both with our customers and our team. The second facility gives us the ability to grow with current customers as well as the opportunity to develop new partnerships. Our objective is to literally operate the two facilities as one. The only difference literally would be the address on the outside of the building. Meanwhile, the coordinated service we provide will be seamless.”
